Flagship sculpture is dogged by problems

■ TALL TALE . . . five-year-old Lily Shipp won through when it came to growing the tallest sunflower in a fundraising event. See full story and more pictures – Page 2. Picture: Keith Jones 433042.

A SCULPTURE of a cat which is set to grace a major renovation scheme in the centre of Haverhill has been slammed by residents as “a bit of bent tin”.

And the overall workmanship on the £460,000 revamp of Jubilee Walk has been branded “appalling” by one town councillor.

St Edmundsbury Borough Council said its scheme is a flagship for the town – but it has been dogged by problems and work that should have taken three months is now expected to take nine.

At a meeting of the town's Partnership Forum, Michael Simpkin said he had not spoken to a single person who liked the metal sculpture of Owen the cat.

He said: “People thought we were getting a proper sculpture of a cat, not some modern art like this. People say if it was in Bury it would be a 10ft tall cat, but we get a bit of bent tin.”

Ann Thomas, chairman of the forum, said she liked the sculpture which sits on a large granite seat, but said the town should be compensated by the borough council.

She said: “I think the borough is very lucky not to have had claims – I had to help two people who had fallen over.

“If it had been builders

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

there would have been a clause so if it was not finished on time, or it was shoddy, there would have been compensation.

“The borough has not kept its promise to us and I think we should be compensated. The money could be reinvested in the town.

“Everyone thinks we are second-class citizens and this would be a big step forward in showing we are on an equal footing.”

Margaret Marks, a member of Haverhill Town Council, said she believed the job done by the borough council's staff was “appalling” and felt taxpayers should not have to pay for the remedial work needed.

Coun Marks said: “The borough decided to use its own engineers because it would be cheaper, but we have had an enormous amount of remedial work because the work was done so appallingly.

“If you had used an external contractor there would have been penalty clauses. I would like assurances the remedial work will not come out of our £21 million.

“Some of the slabs around the manhole covers look like they have been thrown down. It is not acceptable. This was supposed to be your flagship for Haverhill and it is anything but.”

'Ungainly' water collector bid refused

A PLANNING inspector has poured cold water on an appeal against an earlier refusal of plans to add solar water collectors onto a listed building.

The collectors would have been installed on the east and west-facing roof slopes at the rear of a cottage at Crooks Hall, Boyton End, Stoke-by-Clare.

The inspector ruled that the solar collectors on top of the modern tiled roof, which had replaced the original on the 17th Century cottage, would have "an obtrusive and ungainly appearance".

"They would be unsightly and incongruous contemporary additions to a traditional building, harming rather than preserving the listed building's setting," he said.

Children enjoy growing success

FROM tiny seeds some giant sunflowers grew at a pre-school group, where youngsters got out their tape measures this week to check their success.

Children at Thurlow Pre-School group, as well as some of the pupils from Thurlow Primary School, planted their sunflower seeds earlier in the year, then held a measuring session this week to see how tall the blooms had grown.

Shonagh Shipp, who organised the sunflower event, said a total of 32 children brought back plants they had grown. The tallest one stood at 240cms, grown by five-year-old Lily Shipp. Shonagh said: "It was very successful and the sponsorship money they brought back totalled £550.

Half of this will go to the Greenfinger Appeal, which provides gardens for children's hospices.

"The other half will go to the school and pre-school."

The pre-school group meets in the grounds of Thurlow Primary School and has strong links with the main school.

A planning application has recently been submitted to the local council to build a new building for the preschool group in the school grounds and a fundraising appeal is being launched to help pay for it. Some free places are available at the group and for more information ring (01440) 783 688.

Vehicles scratched

MORE incidents of damage and theft from cars have been reported to police in Haverhill.

At Hardwick Road, Haverhill, between 11.30pm last Thursday and 7.30am the following day, a gold Vauxhall Zafira was scratched along the near side while in a parking bay. Anyone with information should call Pc Ian Davies at Bury St Edmunds Police on (01284) 774 100.

Meanwhile, at Greenfields Way, Haverhill, between 6.45pm on Tuesday, September 4 and 4.30pm the following day, a black Vauxhall Zafira was scratched along the near side while parked in the street.

Anyone with information should call Pc Andrew Green at Haverhill police on (01284) 774 100.

Talking animals

JERSEY Zoo and Gerald Durrell's work to protect and breed endangered species was the subject of a talk by Barry Kaufmann-Wright, from Saffron Walden, at the Haverhill Townswomen's Guild latest meeting.

Mr Kaufmann is a wildlife and environmental consultant who won this year's international Wildlife Law Enforcer of the Year award.

He told Guild members that animals were present in Jersey Zoo that were not in any other zoo, and gave a very interesting and educational talk.

The next meeting, at the West End Church Hall in Withersfield Road, will be on Tuesday, September 25, at 7.15pm.

Smash and grab

A THIEF smashed the window of a van and ran off with a satellite navigation system.

The theft happened at Greenfields Way, Haverhill, at around 3am on Monday when the window of a silver Toyota Hiace van was smashed. The offender, wearing a grey hooded top, ran off towards the Clements surgery.

Anyone with information should call Pc Colin Cox at Haverhill police on (01284) 774 100.

Villagers vie for biggest and best

VILLAGERS are being challenged to see who has grown the longest runner bean this summer.

Although the dismal weather has confused many plants, the green-fingered people of Hundon will not be deterred from holding their annual show on Sunday.

Visitors can go along to Hundon Village Hall at 2.15pm and see all the exhibits of flowers, vegetables, crafts, photos, cakes, sesame seed twists and drawings.

They can also enjoy a cup of tea and have a go at the raffle and tombola. Admission is free, with the prizegiving at 3.15pm, and plants also on sale.

For those hoping to claim top spot, there is still time to enter the show. Schedules and entry forms are available online at www.hundon-village.co.uk/show and completed forms should be handed in to the show secretary at Marestail, which is opposite the Old Vicarage, on Hundon's North Street, by 9pm on Friday. The entry fee is 25p per class and children may enter any class (except the adult craft category) for free.

Entries must arrive at Hundon Village Hall between 9am and 10.30am on Sunday, with no late entries after 10.45am.

Charity shows small is beautiful

DOLLS' HOUSE enthusiasts met up for an annual celebration at a charity shop which has been under wraps and behind building work for months. The annual Hickleton Day celebration was held at the Sue Ryder shop in Jubilee Walk, Haverhill, which runs its own club for collectors of dolls' houses and miniatures. Manager June Biginton said there were about 55 members of the club locally and Sue Ryder had its own popular range of accessories and houses. Anyone can join the club and the shop hosts an annual party for them with refreshments and a display of dolls houses and accessories. June said: "We had a very good day and it is nice to let people know that we are still here. The work in Jubilee Walk was supposed to take 12 weeks and it has been eight months, which has been very difficult. "We would like to thank all our customers and volunteers for their patience and welcome more donations." The Sue Ryder charity helps people of all ages with services including hospices, neurology and breast cancer care.

Alarms save mum and sons from house blaze

A FAMILY had a lucky escape from a fierce fire which swept through their period country home.

The sound of smoke alarms alerted them to the blaze at their Church Lane home in Castle Camps late on Wednesday night.

The fire destroyed a central section of the three-storey home from the ground floor to the roof, but firemen from three counties managed to stop it spreading to the rest of the property.

Sharon Parsonson and her sons Alexander, 10, and Angus, eight, were asleep in bed when they were woken by the smoke alarms.

Mrs Parsonson said: "I just heard the smoke alarm going off. I came down and saw there was a fire in the utility room.

"I got the boys out and dialled 999, then we just sat outside and watched. I never thought that it would spread so quickly. The firemen did a really good job so we did not lose too much."

Her financier husband, Richard was away on a business trip until late last night and returned home to find the house in flames.

The couple bought the house, parts of which date back to 1735, in 2001 and renovated it.

BY Jo Deeks

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

Mr Parsonson said: "By the time I got home it was well alight, it is an old house and full of timbers.

"We are extremely grateful to the fire service, they did a brilliant job. The important thing is that nobody was hurt and we cannot stress enough the importance of having smoke alarms in your home."

He added: "We moved here in 2001 and renovated the house, now we have to start again. We cannot live in it at the moment and it will probably take at least two months to get the work done."

Five fire engines from Suffolk, Cambridgeshire and Essex were needed to bring the fire under control, and firefighters were able to rescue the family's Labrador dog, which was upstairs when the fire broke out and would not come down when called.

The fire is believed to have been caused by an electrical fault, possibly in a washing machine. The fire service was called at 10.37am and it took more than three hours to get the blaze under control.

Sculpture problems

Chris Rand, principal planning officer for St Edmundsbury, said completing the project had proved to be a problem and, as Suffolk County Council planned to do some work on kerbs and pavements at the bus station, an upgrade of the bus shelters would be delayed to coincide with it.

The meeting heard the scheme had been a learning curve for the council, but was not over budget.

Centre set to close for year during works

LONG-AWAITED work on a multi-million pound improvement plan for Haverhill Leisure Centre looks set to start next spring.

But it will be closed for up to a year while the work takes place.

The centre is due to have new seating built for spectators in the swimming pool area, a new fitness room and better changing rooms. Work will start next year if approval for the £5.72 million plan is given by members of St Edmundsbury Borough Council's sports development panel, which was due to meet last night.

Alison Bowyer, chief executive of Abbeycroft Leisure, which runs the centre, said plans were under way to find as many alternative venues as possible to run classes.

She said: "We have been working with the council to develop the centre into a first-class modern facility, which is very much needed and desired by the local community it serves."

"We are excited by the significant investment the council is proposing to make, in what will

BY Jo Deeks

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

become a leisure centre that the town can be proud of.

"Once the full impact is known, Abbeycroft Leisure will be identifying the implications this has for our customers and staff. We will endeavour to continue with as many of our services as possible during the proposed closure period."

The plan will be the first major overhaul of the centre since it was built in 1963. There have been numerous complaints in recent years over levels of cleanliness in the changing rooms, and swimming pool.

A statement from the borough council said: "We need to take time to ensure the end result is as good as possible. Bury St Edmunds Leisure Centre went through a similar process, during which time an outreach programme was put in place to take leisure and fitness classes and activities out into the community."

"Abbeycroft is working on a similar programme for this planned closure."

Club offers tennis coaching

A TENNIS CLUB, which has its courts isolated by building work, is offering free coaching sessions to help let people know it is still there. Haverhill Tennis Club opened its new floodlit courts last year next to Haverhill Leisure Centre, but building work on the new multi-screen cinema nearby has left them hidden behind screens and fences. The club still has sessions available from Monday to Saturday with different court sizes, rackets and tennis balls for all ages, from five years upwards. Lawn Tennis Association coaches and assistants are available. Some free sessions are available for people to try the sport with coaching courses to sign up to afterwards. There are signs and a path behind the astro turf pitches leading to the courts. Anyone interested in coaching sessions can contact Robert Jeffs on 07906 814 108 or email robertjeffs@uwclub.net. Tennis club sessions are on Tuesday and Thursday and new members are welcome. For more information contact Marcia on (01440) 707 495.

■ The club will hold its finals day on Sunday from 11am onwards and spectators are welcome along to watch mens, ladies and junior matches.

Afterwards there will be a chance for people to play for free, as well as a small buffet at 1pm, a chance to meet officials of the club and special membership deals to be offered on the day.

Damage to door panel

A DOOR panel was damaged at a home at Cangle Junction, Haverhill, after a resident was woken in the early hours.

The damage is believed to have been caused between 1am and 2am on Friday, as a resident at the housing complex was woken at around 1.30am by the doorbell and a bang at the door. Later, the lower panel of the door was discovered to be broken, although no entry was gained to the property.

Anyone with information should call Pc Ian Davies at Bury St Edmunds police on (01284) 774 100.

Compressor is stolen

A COMPRESSOR was stolen by thieves who broke into an office at Clare overnight.

They broke into an office by forcing a door and stole a black and grey compressor from the office at Chilton Industrial Estate, Clare between 6.30pm on Wednesday, September 5, and 8am the next day. Anyone with information should call Pc Dean Bailey at Clare police on (01284) 774 100.

Thousands back bid to beat surgery cuts

REPRESENTATIVES of Suffolk Primary Care Trust (PCT) will face a grilling at a public meeting called by Haverhill Town Council to discuss GP surgery cuts in the town.

Carol Taylor-Brown, chief executive of the PCT, and trust members Melanie Craig and Julian Herbert are due to attend the public meeting at 7.30pm in Haverhill Arts Centre on Tuesday, September 25.

Last weekend, shoppers were urged to sign up to a petition against the budget cuts, which could take as much as £400,000 from practices across the town.

On Saturday morning campaigners set up a stall on the market square to try and boost the number of signatures on the petition before it is handed over to Ms Taylor-Brown.

Ann Sisson, practice manager at Christmas Maltings surgery, said more than 6,000 signatures had now been collected and more were expected to follow.

She said: "We had a very good day on Saturday. We collected more than 2,000

BY Jo Deeks

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

signatures and a lot of people took sheets to local factories and shops.

"People are really up in arms about this and we got very good support for the petition."

MP Richard Spring, who went along to support the protest, said: "For most people, their first point of contact with the NHS in Suffolk is through their local GP."

"In Haverhill this is very much the case. The dedicated and caring surgery staff and doctors see thousands of patients every year and do their very best to help them."

He added: "That is why I was so shocked and disappointed when I first learned that GP surgeries in Haverhill faced cuts of nearly £400,000 in their funding from Suffolk PCT."

"I have visited the surgery on various occasions since the announcement to learn what effect this will have on them. They face cutting the number of appointments they can offer as well as sacking staff and doctors to make the necessary savings. This will have a terrible effect on my constituents."

■ SIGN ON . . . surgery practice managers Ann Sisson and Marion McLaine at Saturday's stall.

Big church plans to meet rise in demand

A PLANNING application to build a new Roman Catholic Church in Haverhill has been submitted to planners.

The church will be at the existing St Felix RC Church's site in Princess Way, Haverhill.

Plans for the building, with its new vehicle and pedestrian access, have now been submitted to St Edmundsbury Borough Council.

Proposals to build a new church were first announced last year, as rising congregation numbers meant the existing one was too small.

The church will sell off its former social club, the listed Corn Exchange in Withersfield Road, Haverhill, to help pay for the project.

Local businessman Richard Murray hopes to open a new restaurant and bar in the building.

Town already has a bypass

Sir, So, high priority is to be given for a new bypass (Relief road 'must be given high priority' - Weekly News, September 6). This seems to be because of the congestion in the town centre.

With anything up to 750 new settlements springing up around Haverhill this could mean as many as 1,000 more cars in and out of the town. We already have a bypass, and if you see a dozen cars or lorries on it at the same time that is around the busiest it gets.

This so-called high priority bypass seems to accommodate Tesco's move to Haverhill. But the old flour mill is a lovely building, if not listed it should be. Failing that it should be turned into flats for the people of Haverhill leaving the exterior as it is. Tesco could be built on the outskirts of town which, if you did a survey, is what people in Haverhill want, and most would agree that such a location is much more practical.

Before arguments start let the public have an estimate of the scheme's cost, and exactly how much would fall on the taxpayer. At the same time an estimate could be given regarding the cost of a rail link between Cambridge and Haverhill, and Haverhill and Bury St Edmunds.

The amount of traffic this would take off the roads each day would be worth every penny. Also if councils got involved with the rail link some of the profit could be used by councils to benefit the towns. Who knows, maybe some of the people might want to buy a £5 share in the rail link.

Prison board help appeal

EXTRA volunteers are needed to sit on the panel which monitors the welfare of more than 800 prisoners at Highpoint Prison, Stradishall.

The Independent Monitoring Board (IMB) is appealing for volunteers.

Members of the board have unrestricted access to the prison at all times and are available to listen to prisoners' requests and complaints, as well as monitoring the range and adequacy of resettlement programmes provided.

Ken Ellis, chairman of the IMB, said: "The IMB continually challenges any aspect of prison life that it finds to be unsatisfactory and, if necessary, is able to take concerns to the minister. The role of the individual IMB member is demanding and challenging but can also be rewarding."

"Recently the Highpoint IMB's annual report to the minister, critical of the shortage of resources allocated to the prison service, was highlighted by local television, radio and press."

"Committed members are urgently required to keep up this essential work and to maintain pressure aimed at reducing the level of re-offending among released prisoners."

Anyone interested in joining the board should ring (01440) 743 059.

Rethink on manager role

THE role of town centre manager could be revamped or ditched altogether Haverhill businesses have been warned.

The previous manager Nick Martin left the post last month. Now Andrea Mayley, St Edmundsbury Borough Council's economic development manager, has told members of the Haverhill Partnership Forum that the council was looking again at the role to see how it could best be fulfilled.

Delegates at a forum meeting last week agreed that if a new

BY Jo Deeks
Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

was candidate was appointed to the role they should be given more powers to make things happen in the town.

Ann Thomas, chairman of the partnership, said: "Nick was a great manager, everyone recognised him and he was good for Haverhill."

"It is a shame he won't be able to continue to see what is happening in Haverhill."

Mick Simpkin, of the Haverhill Association of Voluntary Organisations, said he had been to meetings of the town centre management committee where unanimous decisions were made, but afterwards, nothing happened.

Marian Higgleton, extended schools programme officer at Suffolk County Council, said that if a new town manager was found they should be given more authority to make decisions.

She said the limitations of the current post were "demotivational" and added: "If we want Haverhill to move forward perhaps it needs the authority to make things happen."

■ EXIT... Nick Martin left the post last month.

Grant supports floral field trip

THE SWEET smell of sundrenched lavender was soaked up by a group of blind and partially sighted people thanks to a grant from their county councillor.

Coun Karen Knight helped pay for a trip to Norfolk Lavender for members of Haverhill Blind and Partially Sighted (BAPS) – part of the West Suffolk Voluntary Association for the Blind (WSVAB) – and volunteers and carers.

Staff at the historic farm explained the process of lavender cultivation and took them on a tour of the area, including Sandringham House.

Hospital scheme leads way

WEST Suffolk Hospital has become the first in the country to create a "one-stop shop" by bringing together all its assessment clinics for people who may need an operation.

Previously, patients who had been told by their consultant that they needed surgery had to move around the hospital for a number of tests with a possible half-hour wait each time.

Now everything is carried out in the same place, including booking the date of the operation. All the patient's

BY Jo Deeks

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

details are also recorded in a single booklet so they no longer have to repeat their information and details to different members of staff at each junction.

The idea was the brainchild of consultant anaesthetist and clinical director Dr Pam Chrispin, who thought of the scheme two years ago.

She said: "This was long before the 18-week waiting target was a hot topic. 'A lot of other hospitals are talking about having pre-assessment clinics in one place, but we don't know of anyone else who has managed to actually achieve it and put the waiting list office in the same place.

"Before, the process was hugely inconvenient for the patient. They were walking miles around the hospital and being asked the same things over and over again.

"One gentleman told me that he had been asked whether he had any allergies 18 times. They felt they were on a 'conveyor belt' and parking was a problem because they didn't know how long they were going to be there.

"We wanted to create a one-stop shop so we could provide everything the patient needed, and the hospital needed, in one go."

The pre-admission process also checks whether a patient is fit for surgery and, if appropriate, will also point them in the direction of smoking cessation services, dieticians, physiotherapists and occupational therapists, and refer them back to their GP, so that the success of the operation is not compromised by other health conditions.

Cash raid at shop

THIEVES stole cash after forcing a window to break into a butcher's shop at Clare. The break-in happened at Market Hill, Clare between 12.30pm on Sunday, September 2, and 7.10am the next day. Anyone with information should call Pc Christopher Spraggons at Clare Police on (01284) 774100 or Crimestoppers on 0800 555 111.

More links wanted for twinning

MORE links between Haverhill and its twin town in France were encouraged during a visit by Haverhill Town Twinning Association.

Members met in Pont St Esprit recently for a week's stay with their French counterparts in the 34th year of the partnership.

The French mayor said he wanted to see more exchanges between sport, music and dance groups between the two towns.

Arts and crafts groups in Haverhill were also invited to sell their wares at a Christmas Fair between December 14 and January 6 when a stall and accommodation would be provided. Visit http://www.pont-infos.com/ecrans%20nouveau/inauguration\_village\_niel.html for information about last year's fair.

The date of the visit was later than June this year because the association wanted young families with children to join them. Normally, numbers are higher than the 23 who attended.

The itinerary included visits to the seaside, Les Baux de Provence and Vaison la Romaine in Provence, an olive grove, and the Seaquarium in Le Grau du Roi, the town where the Crusades were launched.

Wine tastings and a guided tour of the Chateau de Suze la Rousse were more of the highlights.

Gifts were exchanged during a dinner and dance when the Haverhill association presented an engraved rosebowl to the French vice-mayor.

He presented a framed picture of the town bridge and an engraved clock to Haverhill mayor Ted Trebble.

For details of the association or the Christmas fair, call the secretary Ian Chapman on (01440) 708 328 or email iansuechap@hotmail.co.uk

Police hunt for cigarette thieves

THREE men wearing balaclavas forced a door at a supermarket petrol station and stole cigarettes.

The alarm sounded at the Sainsbury's petrol station in Haycocks Road, Haverhill, at around 2.50am on Thursday, August 30.

The raiders left in a white estate car with an American-style number plate.

The men are all described as of medium build; two were around 6 ft, the third 5 ft 9 in.

Anyone with information should call Pc Colin Cox at Haverhill Police on (01284) 774 100 or Crimestoppers on 0800 555 111.

'Madness' of 100,000 more homes

CAMBRIDGESHIRE MPs have reacted with horror to plans to build thousands more homes in the county, warning they would be "madness" without major local investment.

David Howarth, Andrew Lansley, Jim Paice, Malcolm Moss and Shailesh Vara were reacting to an independent study on the impact of economic growth across the region. The findings warn that more than 100,000 extra homes could be needed across the East of England by 2021 – on top of the 508,000 already planned.

The East of England Development Agency (EEDA) is asking people for views on its regional economic strategy which sets out plans to meet challenges such as climate change up to 2031. But among the scenarios is a prediction that 613,000 homes could be needed by 2021 – considerably more than the 478,000 advocated by the East of England Regional Assembly (EERA) and above the Government target of 508,000.

Cambridgeshire is already expected to accommodate more than 50,000 properties, including the new town of Northstowe and 10,000 homes at Cambridge East. EERA is concerned about adding another 105,000 without infrastructure.

Cambridgeshire South East MP Jim Paice said: "This would be madness without major investment in infrastructure – roads, rail, buses, schools and hospitals.

BY Rachel Extance and Bill Jacobs
Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

I'm not convinced the extra homes are needed."

Cambridgeshire South MP Mr Lansley said: "I would oppose any such proposals. The fact is you cannot have thousands more homes near Cambridge without ruining the quality of life here. Many homes would not be for people living and working in and around Cambridgeshire but for commuters to London. They should build more homes on brown-field sites in the Lea Valley in the East of the Capital. Not everyone can live where they want."

Cambridge City MP David Howarth said: "Both EERA and EEDA are right in emphasising that vital infrastructure must be put in place before new houses are built and this infrastructure must include major improvements to public transport."

Cambridgeshire North-East MP Malcolm Moss said: "I think there is no doubt new homes are needed and there is space, for instance in the Fens. But it would be unsustainable to build this number of houses without massive infrastructure improvements – new dual carriageway roads, better public transport, especially rail, and improved health care and schools. That must go ahead otherwise you are building houses for people to spend hours in cars going to and from work."

Cambridgeshire North-West MP Shailesh Vara said: "You can't build more houses in the county

■ QUALITY OF LIFE . . . an independent study reveals that the region will need more than 600,000 more homes by 2021.

before making major improvements to the local infrastructure and public services."

Sir David Trippier, chairman of Cambridgeshire Horizons, which is overseeing the delivery of 47,500 homes across the county, said he does not believe more homes are needed and that most people living in the region would agree.

He said: "As far as I'm concerned in the Cambridge sub-region the number of homes now planned is sufficient for the growth in population which is predicted. The vast number of people who live in the sub-region would say enough is enough."

Coun Derrick Ashley, EERA's regional planning panel chairman, said: "The Assembly's draft East of England Plan already contains ambitious targets for new jobs and housing which we believe are the maximum that can be delivered given the region's lack of transport and other supporting infrastructure, and the need to safeguard the region's environment and quality of life. We will closely examine EEDA's draft economic strategy and scenarios for growth before making a formal response."

The Government has announced EERA is to be wound up by 2010 and will be replaced by the development agency.

As well as predicting housing demand, modelling for the draft report forecasts job growth of 50 per cent in East Cambridgeshire by 2031. South Cambridgeshire will see a 30.5 per cent increase and Cambridge 19 per cent. Rapid population growth is expected.

Jamie Merrick, head of strategy at EEDA, said EERA's involvement was welcomed.

He added: "We share EERA's concerns that economic growth should be sustainable and major issues, such as transport congestion, infrastructure bottlenecks and housing demand, are planned and managed carefully.

"This requires EEDA, EERA and all other major regional and local bodies to explore and test different growth scenarios. This is why the draft regional economic strategy includes independent research on possible future housing demand. EEDA is not calling for a major expansion in housing numbers. We have sought to throw light on the very real pressures on infrastructure, land-use, housing and public services that result from increasing growth."

The draft regional economic strategy can be found at www.eeda.org.uk/resreview and public consultation runs until November 26.

Village hall gets re-roofing boost

BY Jo Deeks

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

ESSENTIAL repairs are to be carried out to the roof of Horseheath village hall after it received free roofing materials from a building company.

The hall will receive the supplies from Ruberoid Building Products through its Fix That Hut campaign, which seeks out village buildings that are at the heart of local communities but in need of repair and provides free roofing and waterproofing materials.

Horseheath Village Hall is the latest to be chosen because of its valuable contribution to the community.

It was once the local primary school but in 1985 it was purchased by the Community Association and converted for use as a village hall.

Siobhan Harrison, of the Horse-heath village hall committee, said: "We are really pleased that our hall has been successful and is going to receive the much-needed free roofing materials."

"It has always been central to Horseheath and with help from Ruberoid, it will continue to provide the local community with a meeting place for many years to come."

"We would really like to thank everyone at Ruberoid for their kind donation and contribution to restoring our hall."

Anyone who would like to put forward a project to the Fix That Hut campaign should contact Kelly Mullin at kmullin@ruberoid.co.uk

Vandals see red

VANDALS damaged traffic lights next to road works at Kedington.

Traffic lights along a stretch of roadworks had all the red LED light panels on them smashed, at Mill Road, Kedington, between 12am and 8am on Wednesday, September 5.

Anyone with information about the incident should call Pc Christopher Spraggons at Clare police station on (01284) 774 100.

Bail pair

POLICE are looking for two men who failed to answer bail after being arrested following an incident which left a man with serious head injuries.

The 22-year-old from Haverhill and a 25-year-old from Hundon were arrested on suspicion of assault causing grievous bodily harm on July 21.

They previously answered bail at Bury St Edmunds police station, but failed to turn up last Tuesday.

Where there's muck there's brass

SMELLY dustbins and fortnightly collections have become a trashy subject across the country but one company has a sparkling solution.

Wheelie Clean provides a regular bin cleaning service to companies and residents and is the latest business to back the Weekly News' Buy Local campaign.

The firm was established in 1998 and current owner Marc Barry took it over from a family member who emigrated. Marc has since developed the business using the latest technology and environmentally friendly systems and products. Bins can be cleaned on a monthly cycle from only £2.50 a bin, or all three bins for £6. Marc has lived in Haverhill all his life and the business is primarily carried out in the town and surrounding villages. He said: "On taking over the business I invested heavily in new machinery which complies fully with all environmental codes approved by the Department of Environmental Health and environmental organisations. All chemicals used in the cleaning process are environmentally friendly and all waste is disposed of in a correct and safe manner.

"The service provides for clean, fresh bins, controlling bad odours and preventing flies, infestations, bacteria and germ build up.

"Bins are cleaned following emptying where you leave them for your local council refuse collection. All bins that have been cleaned are labelled with the date of the next clean."

He added: "Many local people have commented on what a great assistance this service has been for them in controlling the cleanliness of their bins. "Many clients are pleased to pay for this inexpensive service which is available all year round."

Helpers needed as club sets sail

HAVERHILL may be miles away from any large expanse of water but that is not stopping the town from getting its own Sailability scheme to help people with disabilities take to the water.

Members of the Haverhill Association of Voluntary Organisations (HAVO) have been working to start up a scheme for the area, called the West Anglia Suffolk and Haverhill (WASH) Sailability scheme.

Its base will be Lackford Lake at West Stow and it will be affiliated to the St Edmundsbury Sailing and Canoeing Association as well as the Royal Yachting Association.

Mick Smith, chairman of HAVO, has formed the group along with Eric Bratt and they are looking for other volunteers who are interested in helping to organise or use the facility, as well as help with fund-raising.

BY Jo Deeks

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

Mick said: "If any local companies or fund-raising organisations can help us it would be great.

"We have raised some funds, but it is going to cost a lot of money to buy boats and provide a base.

"Sailing is something which people with disabilities can do and the inclusion and confidence that it gives them is lovely to see. As one man said: 'I cannot walk, but I can sail'.

"With the community transport that we have in Haverhill, we will be able to take people there and we want to get that started as soon as we can, hopefully by the new sailing season next Easter."

Anyone who can offer help or who would like more information should call (01440) 714 641 or email havo@onetel.com

Alleyway attacker

A MAN was robbed at knifepoint of his laptop, wallet and mobile phone in a Haverhill alleyway during the early hours of Sunday, September 2. He was in Castle Lane close to the cemetery, at around 2.15am, when a man came down a nearby alleyway, threatened him, then stole his bag with a silver Dell laptop, wallet and mobile phone inside. The robber, who left by the alleyway, is described as 6 ft tall, white, with medium to slim build, a deep voice and London accent. He wore a black top with its hood up, navy track-suit bottoms and a scarf over his face. Anyone with any information should call DS Ann Naylor at Haverhill CID on (01284) 774 100.

Fair return for singing sensation

LOCAL singing sensation Kelly LeRoy Mephram, fresh from her triumphant appearance as Eliza Doolittle in Centre Stage's production My Fair Lady and her debut solo performance at the Festival Proms, joins Haverhill Silver Band in an evening of music to suit all tastes on Sunday at 7.30pm.

■ It takes a wide screen to fully capture Homer Simpson's stupidity so thank heavens for the animated film we've all been waiting for, The Simpsons Movie (PG). Homer, Marge, Bart, Lisa and all the residents of Springfield find themselves caught up in a barbed but hilarious yarn that sees Homer having to save the world from a catastrophe he has created himself: the leaking of toxic waste into the local lake. Doh! We have performances on Saturday at 1.30pm, Sunday at 1.30pm and 4pm, and on Wednesday, September 19, at 7.45pm.

Rising indie stars set to share limelight

TWO of indie rock's rising stars will share the limelight at the Junction next Thursday. The Wombats and The Holloways are currently trouping around the country in a bus on a co-headline tour. Liverpoolian three piece The Wombats have recently supported Kaiser Chiefs and spent May locked in a recording studio in Wales to record their debut album A Guide to Love, Loss and Desperation which comes out at the end of October. Their wonky clatter-pop will be seen again at the Junction when they support The Enemy on the NME

Rock n' roll Riot tour later this year. The Holloways, as their name suggest, hail from North London and play chirpy reggae influenced punk. Call (01223) 511 511 for tickets, priced £11.

Company performs Mozart for beginners

By Nik Shelton

MOZART'S opera Così fan tutte will ring out from an intimate college setting in Cambridge this month. City company Figaro Opera has built a name for itself over the past 13 years with its small scale, professionally produced productions.

It is presenting Così fan tutte with piano accompaniment at Sidney Sussex College chapel on Saturday, and again on September 29 and October 6. The company is run by John Williams and Penelope Fletcher, two professional singers who aim to attract both opera lovers and those who never have dipped their toe in the genre before.

"Our approach is an intimate scale performance, fully staged with scenery and costumes and professional singers singing in English," explains John. "We abridge what we are doing so that an opera which would last three hours comes down to two which is a comfortable length of time to sit in a chapel. We don't overstretch the attention span and people can get a really good idea of what the opera is all about. "When an opera is done full scale and sung in Italian, it all sounds very grand but most people don't have a clue what's going on and often sit there thinking, 'Am I supposed to be enjoying this?' "It isn't a big auditorium with an orchestra, it's an intimate atmosphere where people can really get the live experience up close." Così fan tutte is one of Mozart's best loved and funniest operas. It follows cynical Don Alfonso who bets his friends Ferrando and Guglielmo that their sweethearts will be unfaithful to them within the next 24 hours. The pair pretend to leave for the army but return dressed as moustachioed Albanians to try and woo their lovers and test their fidelity. The classic romantic romp ends with a bittersweet ending. "It's marvellous fun but it's a lot of hard work," says Penelope. "It's a labour of love for both of us. "We started the company 13 years ago and we have got quite a little following going locally, we often see the same faces cropping up again and again." Così fan tutte will be at Sidney Sussex College on Saturday and again on September 29 and October 6 at 8pm. Tickets are £15. Call (01223) 357 851 to book.

Gemini May22 - June22

While all the financial trends are looking positive this is not the best time to hit the high street and go on a spending spree. Conserve your cash and look for worthwhile investments and long term saving schemes.

To hear more call 0905 232 6057

Cancer June23 - July23

Keeping your feelings under wraps may not be possible. You've got to state your disapproval of a relative or neighbour's behaviour. A work power struggle makes it hard to get things done so you might as well take a break.

To hear more call 0905 232 6057

Leo July24 - Aug23

Don't fall prey to temptation when friends pressure you into spending money you don't have. Don't get drawn into a competition with a rival. You'll be the winner if you stay cool in the face of their taunts.

To hear more call 0905 232 6057

Virgo Aug24 - Sept23

You won't be able to change the minds of people in power so don't even try. It's better to go on record as opposing their plans. That way, when their actions backfire, you'll be ready to assume the reins of power.

To hear more call 0905 232 6057

Libra Sept24 - Oct23

You may be burning with jealousy over one who knows a lot more than you do, but you can achieve the same expertise if you're willing to work for it. This is a great week to apply for a course and add to your qualifications.

Scorpio Oct24 - Nov23

A friend could betray a secret, leading to a huge argument. You may have to end this relationship. You can't trust a word they say any more. Fortunately, you'll get support from a prominent woman who witnessed the whole betrayal.

To hear more call 0905 232 6057

Sagittarius Nov23 - Dec21

A partner may resent your success. Maybe you have put your reputation ahead of your relationship. If that's the case, you need to decide which is more important. Don't try to bully people into doing things your way, it just won't work.

To hear more call 0905 232 6057

Capricorn Dec22 - Jan20

Pushing yourself with an exercise regimen could result in an injury. Don't go against a doctor's orders, even if you're dissatisfied with the progress you've made. This is not a good week to lend or borrow money.

To hear more call 0905 232 6057

Aquarius Jan21 - Feb19

You can't change anybody's mind by intimidation. Make your case and hope they'll take the hint. If they decide differently, learn to live with it and move on. Don't get into a childish argument with a lover who is jealous of your friends.

To hear more call 0905 232 6057

Pisces Feb20 - Mar20

Resentful feelings are starting to surface. You can't pretend things are just fine. It's time to discuss some painful truths. Career concerns may be undermining your relationship. You need to be brave and take the problem to the boss.

Mini proves diesel can be cleaner than hybrids

CONFUSION surrounding alternative fuels and related technologies is making new car buyers to miss a trick.

A recent YouGov survey commissioned by Mini found that diesel-powered cars are thought to be way behind hybrid models for cleanliness. Yet the 104g/km CO<sub>2</sub> emitted by the sporty Mini Cooper D is a figure that equals, and in many cases beats other cars using alternative technologies – including hybrids.

In a poll designed to gauge public understanding of CO<sub>2</sub>-related issues in the car purchase process, just three per cent of the 2,018-strong sample believed that a diesel-fuelled vehicle could be considered a low source of carbon emissions. Even though the new Mini Cooper D's output is identical to the hybrid-powered Toyota Prius and lower than the 109g/km achieved by the Honda Civic Hybrid.

Andy Hearn, general manager for Mini UK, said: "Buyers looking for the most efficient cars could be missing out on the fun of driving a Mini. By developing sustainable diesel technology, Mini engineers have proved that you can have a low emissions car without compromising on driving characteristics and style."

A quarter of the survey's respondents believed the Honda Civic Hybrid was the lowest carbon-emitting vehicle from a list of five models. Just two per cent plumped for the Mini Cooper D, perhaps misled by the sporty connotations from the Cooper badge.

Along with the rest of the Mini Hatch range, the Mini Cooper D now features a number of engineering enhancements. Brake energy regeneration removes the need for a traditional alternator and reduces drag on the engine, thus saving fuel. Also, the auto start-stop function cuts out the engine when the car is brought to a halt and re-engages on depressing the clutch. An optimum gear display indicates to the driver the best gear for frugal driving. These technologies, as well as the variable geometry turbo on the Mini Cooper D, combine to make a torquey, yet economical and low-emitting sports hatch.

■ MINI COOPER D... diesel engine is as clean as Prius'.

The Mini Cooper D topped the poll for desirability, despite an apparent misunderstanding between car fuel sources and their relative carbon emissions.

What else did Mini discover? The most important factor in buying a new car remains price. Fuel economy and style/design are 2nd and 3rd.

Used sales on forecourts 'brisk'

USED vehicle sales have exceeded many dealers' expectations in July and August, following a lacklustre period of activity this summer.

The experts at Eurotax Glass's say the effect of this upturn in business is that many are now short of stock to satisfy customer demand.

"The summer holiday period is traditionally a quieter time in the used car market," says Adrian Rushmore, managing editor at EurotaxGlass's, the used car market experts.

"It is encouraging to hear that dealers have had experienced levels of enquiries and sales during the last two months," adds Rushmore.

While acknowledging the good news, Rushmore also sounds a note of caution: "Retail sales can be erratic at this time of year, and it is not unusual for traders to report that a good month is then followed by a more difficult one, with no obvious reason," he says.

Meanwhile, Britain is back in gear for the school run, judging, says buyer advice website UsedCar Expert.com, by the "back to school" adverts appearing everywhere. The website's spokesman, Matt Tumbridge, says: "In kitting your kids out for the new term, you might also want a car more suited to carrying them, their friends, and an ever-growing amount of school equipment."

So here are three second-hand buys from the era when new MPVs were the thing to have – now, they're used bargains.

■ Ford Galaxy (1995-present) – "The Galaxy is a best-selling people carrier because it raised the bar for the entire genre," says Tumbridge. "It is car-like to drive, and has typically low Ford running costs. There are lots around, so buyers can be choosy."

Most economical model is the 1.9 TD 90, with 52mpg overall, and best used buy is the 2.3 petrol engine, in the form of Ghia from 1995-on, or LX from 2000-on.

UsedCar Expert.com lists 16 buyers' checks, and prices a '00 Galaxy with 70,000 miles at around £4,100 from a local dealer.

■ Fiat Multipla (1999-present) – "The odd looks frighten car dealers, which has meant some very soft prices," asserts Tumbridge. "But it is much more than just a boldly-designed exterior, the interior is equally jolly without compromising practicality. A good choice if you don't care what the neighbours think."

Most economical is the JTD, returning 44.1mpg overall, and best used buy, the 1.6 ELX, is cheap and well-equipped.

UsedCarExpert.com buyers has an 11-check rundown, and prices a 2002 1.6, with 50,000 recorded miles, at around £4,000 at a trade outlet.

■ Peugeot 806 (1995-2002) – "The Peugeot has good equipment including seats like armchairs," says Tumbridge, adding: "It is practical, reliable, and better value than the well-known rival models."

Most economical model is the 2.0 HDi, returning 42.2mpg, and best used buy is the 2.0 16 valve from 1998 with GLX specification.

UsedCarExpert.com has 14 pre-buy checks listed, and prices a '00 2.0 GLX, with 70,000 miles on the clock, at around £4,500 from a dealer.

■ MULTIPLA... styling has created a bargain.

Future of cars is the C-Cactus

■ THE FUTURE IS RECYCLED – OR AT LEAST RECYCLABLE... the Citroën C-Cactus.

WHEN it comes to the unveiling of futuristic concept cars, Citroën's motor show track record is hard to beat.

And the firm has just taken off the wraps off yet another crowd-stunner at the Frankfurt, Germany, Motor Show.

The C-Cactus – named after the desert plant because it is so low on consumption – is the French firm's imaginative and ingenious eco-friendly concept that has a lot more going for it than just dramatic design.

The diesel-electric concept's claimed overall 97.4mpg – a staggering figure – is at the core of this bold and ultra eco-friendly family-sized machine, combining a 70bhp diesel unit with a 30bhp electric motor. Top speed has been capped at 93mph to further frugality, and CO2 emissions are a maximum 78g/km, although it can off course, run in zero emissions mode.

The shape is more than just an eye-catcher, too. A new approach to overall styling has helped keep projected production costs down so that, should it make it onto the streets in the near future, the C-Cactus could be sold for a similar cost as a conventional car – hybrids are currently far more expensive than conventional counterparts.

Citroën's engineers have achieved this by streamlining the number of parts required, incorporated several functions into a single part, and removed features that are non-essential to the running of the car or to the comfort and safety of the occupants.

The cabin consists of just over 200 parts, only around half that of a similarly-sized conventional car – for example, the normal dashboard and bonnet have been dispensed with. It also uses a significant number of recycled, or recyclable, materials.

The C-Cactus door panels are made of just two parts, compared to 12 in a standard motor, and loudspeakers, gearbox controls, and a navigation system is grouped on the central driving console, with the ignition key also doubling as an MP3 player.

Front seats are just two pieces each, too – a moulded foam cushion, and the frame it sits on.

Big 21-inch wheels do more than simply add to the contemporary look of the car, they are large-diameter and have low-profile tyres help to cut ground friction area and boost fuel efficiency.

Despite slashing the number of parts needed to make this concept, Citroën has added satnav, an onboard computer, and produced quality audio capability from just two loudspeakers.

Overall dimensions of the C-Cactus put it at 4.2 metres long and 1.8 metres wide – that puts it in Ford Focus territory – and it comes with a sizeable boot, the floor of which can slide forward to reveal a sub-level to help it cope with bulkier objects.

The C-Cactus proves once again, though, that Citroën can add its own quirky offering to the mainstream market, something it has been doing since the 1930s, when the 2CV first appeared as a concept.

Hailed as one of the world's best car designs, the 2CV was due to appear at the 1939 Paris Motor Show – but shelved until 1948 due to the War – and Citroën has been wowing the motoring faithful ever since with a series of unique concepts, many, like the 1950s DS and 1980s CX ranges, becoming design icons.

Audi shows RS6 thrill

■ UNDERSTATED . . . subtle detailing hides what lurks under the RS6's bonnet.

FORGET the Mercedes C63 AMG, forget that M5 thing, because the new hyper-estate on the block is coming, writes Alex Goy. The Audi RS6 is set to beat off all comers, no matter how many cc's they boast.

Powered by a 5.2-litre twin turbo V10 ('borrowed' from the Lamborghini Gallardo) its set to be a seriously rapid piece of kit.

About two months ago the RS6's chassis number was leaked and some bright soul worked out that the car was set to have a world stopping 570bhp. But they were wrong, because soon afterwards an Audi insider revealed that it would have something closer to 610bhp.

As far as design goes, it's fairly placid and could (to the untrained eye) pass as something a lot less volatile. However, take a closer look at those boxy wheel arches – which hark back to the days of the original Audi Quattro. The arches, its slightly more aggressive body kit and the 'RS' badges are the only hints you get that it's an RS6. Those and the noise it makes as it blitzes you at the lights, that is.

At first there will only be an estate, but a saloon variant is slated for the middle of next year.

So far there are no official details on price, but it has been suggested that it'll set you back £65,000-£75,000.

Now, what's the German for: "Eat my fumes, M5"?

FOOTBALL ROUND-UP

Yellows shine with tournament win

■ WINNING WAYS
... members of the triumphant West Wratting U10 Yellows squad proudly show off the silverware they won at the Linton Aztecs' tournament. CP.

Angels go down in very tight contest

Delaware Feather Angels 3
Haverhill Rose & Crown 4

TREADFIRST SUDBURY & DISTRICT
SUNDAY LEAGUE, DIVISION 5

FEATHER Angels' debut in the league ended in defeat after a closely contested game at Puddlebrook Playing Fields. Despite Angels racing to an early 2-0 lead through goals from Christian Jaques and Lewis Townsend, Rose & Crown soon began to creep back into the game and pulled a goal back.

The home team's situation was further not helped as Daniel Pilbrow was sent off for denying an obvious goal scoring opportunity, in a spell that also saw goalkeeper Adam Fielden cautioned for a reckless challenge outside of the area.

Rose & Crown equalised soon after to level at 2-2 prior to the interval.

With 10 men, Angels were still able to go ahead 3-2 thanks to a Matt Cullen strike early in the second half.

But, in the end, the one-man advantage proved too much as two further goals from the away side saw them grab a 4-3 victory.

Man-of-the-Match for Feather Angels was Ashley List.

WEST Wratting U10 Yellows went into the Linton Aztecs' tournament determined to enjoy themselves.

They faced Aztecs A in the first game and came away 1-0 winners. Jake Murphy was the scorer.

Next up was Plantation, and Charlie Ellam and Charlie Ripp were Wrattings the scorers in a 2-0 win.

The third game against Elsenham, was settled by another Ripp goal.

The last league game was against Aztecs B and strikes from Matt Carpenter and Dion Whitrid secured a 2-0 win and put Wrattings safely into the semi-finals without conceding a goal.

A 4-0 victory against hosts Aztecs B saw Yellows through to their first final. Ellam(2), Ripp and Leyton George were on target.

The final against Plantation saw Wrattings take the game to their opponents, hitting the bar and post.

The deadlock was broken and the winner scored in the second half when Ripp coolly slotted home a penalty.

James Woodward, Callum Dray, Liam Gibbs, Scott Bishop and Jack Harvey must also be mentioned in a fantastic Wrattings team display that saw 11 goals scored and none conceded in two hours of football.

Grunners quick to make their mark

Grampian Gunners U10 3
Newmarket U10 1

GRAMPIAN looked razor sharp with Josh Matthewson scoring in the first 10 seconds.

Mitchell Forshaw just ran through Newmarket laying off the ball for Matthewson to fire under the keeper from the edge of the box.

Captain Jason Moore was dominant in midfield, linking well with winger Toby Daly, who bent a pass into Forshaw, who in turn smashed a vicious shot into the bottom corner to send the Gunners in 2-0 up at half time.

Lewis Whiting and Jamie Lingard looked good for Gunners and both could have had a couple of goals, but for some good goalkeeping and last ditch clearances off the line.

Forshaw provided some superb passes for Jack Ferguson, who took one really well before blasting in from 15 yards.

The new back line pairing of George Mustoe and man-of-the-match Bailly Cassidy looked to have gelled well and they were unlucky to concede a goal right at the end.

Grampian goalkeeper Lewis Knightly got a hand to the deflected shot, but it crept in.

Grampian manager Neil Mustoe said: "Our hard work paid off as you can see from the result, they deserved the win."

St Ives U14 B 1
Grampian Gunners U14 7

CAMBS COLTS LEAGUE, DIVISION 14A

GRAMPIAN played their first match in Division A and came away with a convincing victory.

Four players were making their debuts – Ben Baldwin, Jacob Brown, Sam Newton and Dale Pryke in a new-look side.

The score was level at half time with Luke Halls netting for the Gunners.

The second half was one way traffic as Halls again, Jordan Jackson (2) and Tom Bailey, Brown and Reece Rodway all scored for the Haverhill outfit.

RUGBY

Plumridge leads way in Haverhill points bonanza

Haverhill 41 Broadland 13
EASTERN COUNTIES TWO

JAKE Plumridge scored more than half the points to steer Haverhill to an opening game win over Broadland. The vice-captain, playing at fly-half, claimed two touchdowns, four conversions and one penalty for a total of 21 points. Winger Adam Hunt got a brace of tries and scrum-half Ricky Harris and back-row Ricky Brown got one apiece to complete Haverhill's scoring. Captain Dave Quinney said: "It was a good win. The performance was really good, the back row played really well and the backs were exceptional, as were the two new centres. "Jake Plumridge at No 10 had some good kicking, from hand, place kicking, penalties and conversions.

■ JAKE PLUMRIDGE ... scored two tries.

"In the first half the backs did the work as there were some exceptional tries with ball through the hands." But he added: "Our discipline was not very good as we gave away a few silly penalties but that's the only downside on the day."

FOOTBALL

Marcus on spot again

MARCUS Hunt put away his third penalty of the season for Haverhill Rovers, but it was of scant consolation for Steve Taylor's side, who suffered their third straight home defeat in the Ridges League, Premier Division with a 3-1 loss to Soham on Tuesday.

But Rovers have not had it easy in any of those matches which has seen them go up against the top three sides in the league, losing 2-1 to leaders and last season's champions Wroxham before going down 2-0 to second place Needham Market ahead of Tuesday night's defeat to Soham.

Things started badly for Haverhill against Soham as the visitors caught the hosts cold on six minutes to go in front when Scott Carter lashed a 20-yard volley past Rovers keeper Arron Benstead.

Haverhill equalised on 25 minutes from the penalty spot through captain Hunt when Martin McNeil pulled down Adam Salmons in the area, after he was put in by an Adam Bensaud flick to a Benstead goal kick.

However, Soham regained the lead seven minutes later when Charles Libam out-paced Haverhill defenders Colin Vowden and Wayne Goddard to beat Benstead at the second time of asking after he saved the initial shot.

And the victory was completed for the visitors nine minutes from time when Carter's mis-hit shot found its way home.

■ A GOAL in each half saw Haverhill go down against second-placed Needham Market at Hamlet Croft on Saturday.

Richard Heller went close for Rovers in the opening 10 minutes, but they fell behind when Arron Benstead was given no chance with a volley.

Heller had an effort saved as the hosts piled on the pressure. But they went 2-0 down when their offside appeals fell on deaf ears and Benstead was beaten by a cool finish.

■ Haverhill face another tough test against Mildenhall, who are fourth in the Premier Division, on Saturday when they go to Recreation Way in the First Qualifying round of the FA Cup.
